FOUR ADS. ONE RULE: EARN THE FIRST 2 SECONDS.

Every case in this report started as a hypothesis, was written as a brief, shipped as a creative, and was judged by the data — not by taste.

CASE 01

DAY 1 VS. DAY 21

HYPOTHESIS

A visible before/after, told by a real customer, beats polished product shots on cold traffic.

HOOK

> "Nobody warned me my skin would look like this in 3 weeks."

ANGLE

Morning routine + social proof. Shot on a phone, natural light, talked to camera like a story for friends.

CASE 02

THE FOUNDER'S CONFESSION

HYPOTHESIS

Admitting what the product can't do builds more trust than listing everything it can.

HOOK

> "I almost didn't launch this — here's why."

ANGLE

Founder story + objection handling. One take, kitchen table, no B-roll for the first 8 seconds.

CASE 03

POV: HE SLEPT THROUGH THE STORM

HYPOTHESIS

If it looks like an organic post, it earns the scroll-stop. The product can wait until second 6.

HOOK

> “POV: it's 2am, there's thunder, and he didn't even wake up.”

ANGLE

Relatable pet-parent moment, trending audio, on-screen text only. Product reveal framed as “the thing that changed it”.

CASE 04

A 100-YEAR-OLD IDEA

HYPOTHESIS

A story-first, cinematic opener reframes a gadget as a discovery — not another product.

HOOK

> “In 1921, a doctor wrote down an idea nobody believed.”

ANGLE

Historical narrative built with AI-generated scenes, classical score and dramatic pauses. Indirect pitch in the last 8 seconds.

THE LOOP BEHIND EVERY WINNER.

01

DIG

Reviews, Reddit threads, comments and competitor ads. I look for the exact words customers use.

02

HYPOTHESIZE

One angle, one variable, one metric that decides if it worked.

03

BRIEF

Hook stack, script, avatar and shot direction — clear enough for any creator or editor.

04

PRODUCE

UGC, founder, native or AI. Every concept ships with 3–5 hook variations.

05

READ & ITERATE

Hook rate, hold rate, CPA. Kill fast, iterate on signal, scale what wins.

EVERY WINNER BECOMES THE NEXT CONTROL ↺

WHAT I TEST

Hooks

Visual, verbal and text-on-screen openers

Angles

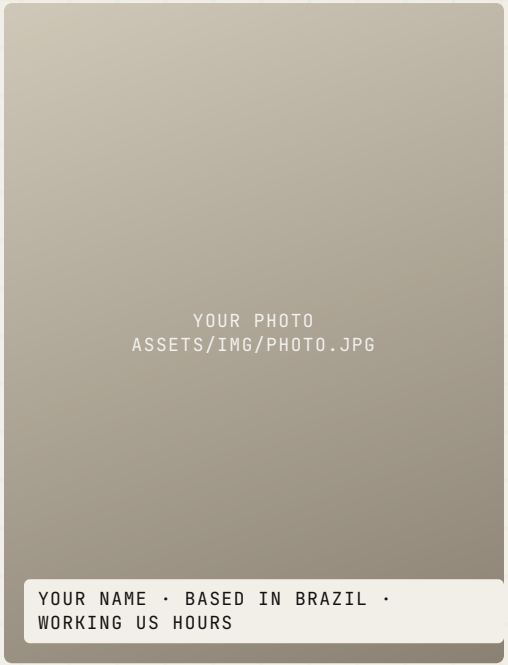

Pain, desire, objection, story, social proof

Formats

UGC, founder-led, native/POV, AI cinematic

Avatars

Who says it matters as much as what's said

HI, I'M YOUR NAME.

Creative Strategist and Video Editor focused on DTC and e-commerce. I build direct-response creatives for Meta Ads, TikTok Shop and Google — from the customer research to the final cut.

I care about the details nobody notices and everybody feels: the first frame, the first word, the pause before the reveal. Outside of ads: [hobby], [hobby] and [hobby].

> "We were very happy with the results of the work and scaled significantly with it."
